

A big laugh at the dolls house: play is where the work starts.

If your child masks all day and melts down the second they get home, we see you.

Occupational therapy for school-age children and teens, and younger children with complex needs. Within about 30 minutes of Ipswich and across greater Brisbane, or online anywhere in Australia.

— Who is this for, and what do we help with?

Sensory and regulation

Understanding your child's sensory profile. Regulation comes before performance.

Daily living and routines

Dressing, sleep, mealtimes and getting out the door.

School, play and handwriting

Motor skills, handwriting, play and joining in at school.

Any diagnosis or none

Autistic, ADHD, PDA, sensory sensitive, or not yet sure. We never write goals that suppress stimming.

— Where and how do sessions happen?

Within about 30 minutes of Ipswich

Ripley, Redbank Plains, Goodna, Springfield, Forest Lake, Inala, Oxley, Jindalee and Rosewood, and across greater Brisbane. At home, at school and in the community.

Online anywhere in Australia

We train the people around your child, so it keeps working when we are not there.

— Is Phoenix taking new people now?

Who you will meet

Phoenix Seu, occupational therapist, based in Ipswich, one of four occupational therapists here. The wider OT team has room too. Complex assessments are led by our senior team, with Phoenix alongside.
